Dear Patient:

Thank you for expressing an interest in our diabetes treatment and education program. Since diabetes will stay with you the rest of your life, it is important that you learn as much as possible so you can make your own decisions about diabetes, both day-to-day and for the long term. It is important that your particular treatment suits your lifestyle as much as possible.

For these reasons, we ask you to set aside 2 hours for your first visit so that we may fully evaluate your case. At this visit you will meet with several members of the Diabetes team starting with one of our Nurse Practitioners and possibly a dietitian and/or a diabetes nurse educator. We will find out how much you know about diabetes and how you treat your diabetes. You may receive a physical examination and we may order blood tests. We will ask you about your views about diabetes and any changes you would like to make; then together we will decide how to proceed. Feel free to bring a family member or a friend if you would find this helpful.

Before coming to our office eat your usual meals and take your usual insulin and / or medications. This applies to all your subsequent visits as well – you never need to fast for any visits or blood tests that we ask for.

What to bring to your first visit:

- all medications, vitamins, and supplements you are taking (not just for diabetes)
- your glucose testing equipment
- if you know how to test your blood sugar, bring results for 3 – 7 days; test at least 4 times per day - before breakfast, lunch, supper and bedtime snack, and any other time that you feel you need to; a log for keeping track of your blood sugar is attached
- the three forms attached and completed - health history, “HAD Scale” and “Problem Areas in Diabetes”

Your first follow up visit will typically be 1 week later and will last an hour but visits thereafter will usually be shorter. At every visit we will strive to teach you a little more about how to live well with diabetes. Each of your visits with us will be with one or more of the members of the Diabetes Team who specialize in several different aspects of diabetes. Who you see will depend on what you and we think you need. You will not always see the doctor, but you can ask to have your next appointment with the doctor at any time.

What to bring to subsequent visits:

- all your testing equipment
- your results log book
- any new medications from another doctor
At Mount Nittany Physician Group (MNPG) we use the team approach to diabetes treatment. This approach is employed at most specialized diabetes clinics. The diabetes team is comprised of the patient, the MNPG Diabetes Team (endocrinologist, diabetes nurse educators, dietitians, and nurse practitioners) and importantly the patient’s own primary care doctor.

Diabetes is a disease that requires attention. The Patient is ultimately responsible. We cannot make you do anything that you don’t want to do – all we can do is give you advice. And we “cannot go home with you” – you must take care of things, 24/7.

Our goal is therefore NOT TO TREAT your diabetes but to TEACH you how to treat it and to troubleshoot it in the future. We are always here to help in case you have a problem, but our goal is to make it so you almost never need us.

When you come here for specialty diabetes care, you are not just coming to see a doctor; you will be treated by the full MNPG Diabetes Team. The responsibility of the MNPG Diabetes Team is to give you advice and skills to live well with diabetes. The team members have different expertise to help you with this 24/7 responsibility. At each visit you will therefore see one or more different team members based on what you or we think you need at that time. The diabetes doctor may not always be included, but the whole MNPG Diabetes Team is always behind you.

We are living in the middle of a diabetes epidemic. We strive to help as many patients with diabetes as we can and to do so we ask each patient’s PRIMARY DOCTOR to help as much as possible. If you are doing well, we may ask you to come back to see us only if you have a problem and to work with your primary doctor most of the time. However, remember that we are always here for you even if we had not seen you for a number of years.

PAID (Identifying Your Problem Areas in Diabetes)

Directions: Living with diabetes can sometimes be quite difficult. In day-to-day life, there may be numerous problems and hassles concerning diabetes and they can vary greatly in severity. Problems may range from minor hassles to major life difficulties. Listed below are a variety of potential problem areas which people with diabetes may experience. From your own view, consider the degree to which each of the listed items may currently be a problem for you and circle the appropriate number.

If an item does not apply to you (e.g. “Currently coping with complications”, and you don’t have any), please circle “0”.

Please note that we are asking you to indicate the degree to which each item may be bothering you in your life, NOT whether the item is merely true for you. For example, if you are “currently coping with complications”, you would not necessarily rate this item with a high number. If you felt that this was not a bother or a problem for you, you would circle “0”. If this was very bothersome to you, you might circle “5”.
